Giving Back to the Lord is an Honor:
A Testimony from Arlene Schwarzenbach, Capital Campaign Co-Chair

How did I arrive at my belief that joyfully giving back to the Lord is an honor? The answer is I learned it from the time I was a child, but it took on a whole new meaning when I committed my life to Christ. On top of that, life experiences were thrown into that belief to arrive where I am today. Let me explain further.

I was raised in a Christian family. On Sunday morning, each of us children tied our coin in the corner of a handkerchief so it would be almost impossible to lose. Then we would carefully untie it before placing it in the offering plate at church, acknowledging our thankfulness for the gifts our Lord and Savior had provided. We would return a portion of those gifts to Him.

Many years later, this concept was reinforced and broadened when my career took me to Wartburg College. One day at a meeting, the President stated that each of us should be committed to the mission of educating students. Then he asked, if we made that commitment, would we then be willing to contribute financially to support it. The rationale was that if the majority of employees were willing to jump onboard the campaign, then that showed alumni and friends of the college that we believed it was a worthwhile endeavor, and alumni and friends would then be more willing to support it.

So giving back to God has deep roots in my life, and believing everyone needs to participate to some degree financially is part of who I am. But how could that practice move so deep into my heart? The answer is because life events happen - not only to me, but to each of us. First, I was blessed with the birth of two children and quickly realized that raising them was the hardest thing I'd ever do. One Sunday, I knelt in the Chapel and committed my life to the Lord. Every Sunday thereafter I would kneel in the Chapel as I prayed for guidance in raising these priceless children. They are now adults. My faith grew. Thank you, Lord!

Then another life-changing event happened. Following the tragic death of my husband at a young age, I wasn't even strong enough to pray at times, but the Lord sent blessings and more blessings day after day, month after month, and year after year. He guided me back to peace and returned joy to my life, not an easy task by anyone's standards. My faith deepened. Thank you, Lord!

Yet another major event in my life was retirement. Throughout my career, my Lord gave me a passion and mission to help college-age students, and I truly loved it for twenty-seven years. Then Christ asked me to retire a few years before I had planned. Why do you want me to do that, I asked? The answer to that question was, Trust in God. I did and retired. In retirement, I have been given joy beyond what I had ever dreamed. I should have known He had plans for me. My trust in God was cemented forever. Thank you, Lord!

Throughout all these years, I was asked to serve at Nazareth in many ways. I could easily do lots of things, but many times I didn't feel capable of what was being asked of me, including serving on Church Council and co-chairing God's plan for this Capital Campaign. With knees knocking, I said yes each time, knowing that the Lord has always guided me and provided me with the ability to joyfully do what has been asked of me. Thank you, Lord!

Yes, I believe giving back to the Lord is very important, and my faith grew through life-changing events. Now Nazareth faces a challenge, and we have a plan. So in honor of that plan, it is now that I commit myself to "tying my coin in the corner of my handkerchief" and believing all hands need to be on deck to complete the Lord's plan for Nazareth. I am making a pledge to You, my dear Lord and Savior, to honor and glorify your name and to be your servant in retiring the debt on the Family Life Center, providing funds to do Your mission work, repairing Bethel Hall, building a new kitchen, and providing a covered entry. Praise, honor, and glory be to God. Thank you, Lord!
